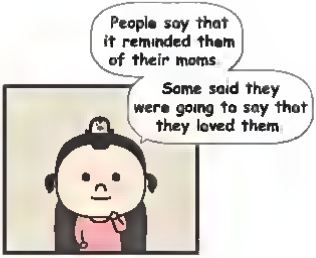
Say It

After I drew an episode about my mom,
I read the comments.



It made me think.

I was trying to remember that time

But I realized that it'd been so long that I couldn't even remember

I think I'm a quite an expressive person.

But I don't understand why it's so hard to say this.

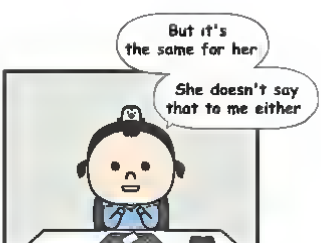
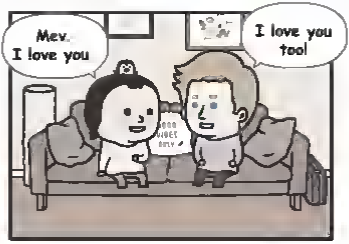
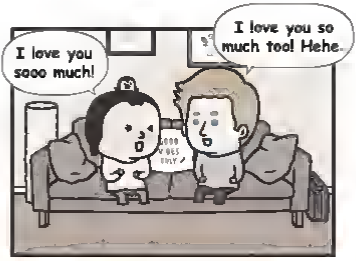
I had so many chances to express my love.

I just missed them so easily.



I guessed that my mom must have been feeling the same as her daughter.

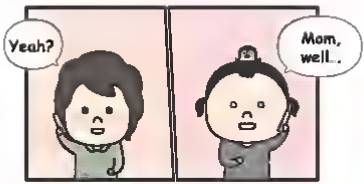




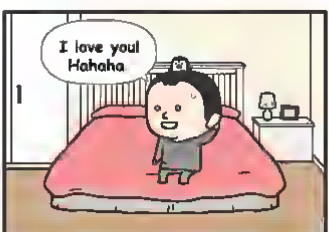
But I remembered how easily
I was saying this to my husband

I felt like this.

A few days ago



Well,...



I did it!

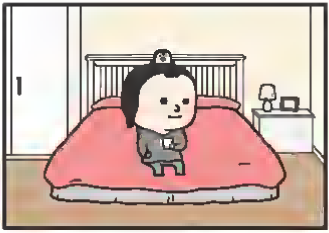
OK Bye.
Yeap Bye.



Well done.

Well done, you.
